Project title: "Heroes and she-roes": Knowledge for analysis of and advocacy for equal pay for women and mothers in Macedonia (SHE-ROES)

Location of the action	Cost of the action (EUR)	Role in the action	Donors to the action (name)	Dates
Macedonia	80.127	Coordinator	Know-how Exchange Program – Austria through the Central European Initiative	November 2015 – January 2017

Objectives of the action

The objective of this project is to correctly measure gender pay gaps (difference in wages between men and women) and motherhood pay gaps (difference in wages between mothers and childless women) in Macedonia and to advocate solutions for addressing the prevalent pay gaps. In particular, previous research has demonstrated that Macedonia faces gender and motherhood wage gaps of 12.5% and 8.7%, respectively. However, a large part of females remains outside the labour market and can therefore not be considered when the pay gap is calculated (as their wage is not observed). This makes the above figures incorrect, since it is likely that females who stay outside the labour market are not randomly selected not to work. Hence, one bold challenge is to obtain knowledge for the proper calculation of pay gaps, i.e. econometric (technical) knowledge to address the selectivity bias in the labour market. The project envisages activities positioned within three pillars: Professional development thorough capacity building and direct knowledge transfer. Collaborative research. Building networks for advocacy, promotion and collaboration beyond the project cycle.

Project title: Follow-up to the assessment of the socio-economic impact of COVID-19 on children and in-depth study on multidimensional child poverty in North Macedonia

Location of the action	Cost of the action (EUR)	Role in the action	Donors to the action (name)	Dates
North Macedonia	50.115	Coordinator	UNICEF	December 2020 – July 2021

Objectives of the action

The goal of the follow-up to the assessment of the social and economic impact of COVID-19 on children, is to generate scenarios and expanded policy proposals in a situation where it is certain that this will be a protracted crisis, both from a health and from a socio-economic perspective, and where we can verify the validity of the initial assumptions of its nature and duration. The overarching goal of the proposed study on multidimensional child poverty in North Macedonia is to generate an in-depth map on the issue and establish sound and thorough empirical evidence.

More specifically:

- i) to portray child poverty in terms of demographic and geographic indicators, including a profile of the children who are most at risk of poverty and, consequently, of exclusion;
- ii) to understand how child poverty relates to overall household poverty;
- iii) to investigate non-income aspects of child poverty, primarily education—including early childhood education—and health and set the stage for its multidimensionality; and
- iv) to use generated evidence for increasing the awareness of the public and decision makers on the issue, and for advocacy for tailoring well-targeted policies and measures to improve specific outcomes pertinent to children reducing child poverty in the country.

- iii) to investigate non-income aspects of child poverty, primarily education—including early childhood education—and health and set the stage for its multidimensionality; and
- iv) to use generated evidence for increasing the awareness of the public and decision makers on the issue, and for advocacy for tailoring well-targeted policies and measures to improve specific outcomes pertinent to children reducing child poverty in the country.
